TOPIC: FLUID BODY FULCRUMS AND VASCULAR TREE - APPLIED BIODYNAMICS FOR METABOLIC HEALTH

We explore the five fulcrums of the water-earth elements in the Indo-Tibetan medical system. They are directly associated with the fluid body and vascular tree. A new organization of the vascular tree is taught. The five fulcrums of the water-earth elements are: the major joints of the body, the cranium, the tongue, the trunk, and the stomach. The organization of the specific arteries in these locations will be taught in three distinct protocols. The subtle level of the fulcrums includes acupuncture points and perceptual practices to harmonize the metabolism of the body with the cosmos. The cosmologies of Tibetan Medicine, the Book of Genesis and Taoism are embodied.
