

Newsletter from September 25th, 2020

Dear Biodynamic Practitioners,

As we recently announced in our newsletter of September 15th, we send you today the link to the Cardio-Lymph webinars with Michael Shea this November. These four webinars are organized by Carlos Rodeiro and Mar Ximenis and can be booked on their website www.biostillness.com.

Here is the corresponding Link.

For questions please use the contact form on the website. I, Almut will be the translator for the webinar series, so I am not able to answer your questions about the webinars. If you register for the series, you can watch them later, in case any of the live dates do not fit into your calendar.

We, Michael and Almut, are very much looking forward to the webinars with you and that we will get to see you again in this special contactless year. Michael just finished a new article on biodynamic practice that he wants you to have. Click here for the new article. Enjoy!

With gratitude and love, Michael and Almut
